

EEGS GARDEN CLUB

STUDENTS 4 SUSTAINABILITY

PRESENT THE

SUSTAINABILITY SERIES

March 24th at 7pm-10pm
Ore Dock Brewing Company

Join Save the Wild UP and the NMU SAP crew, for a presentation on Environmental issues and the upcoming permaculture garden. There will be live music by Wildhack and tacos available from Dia de Los Tacos. Enjoy some craft beer and get excited for this upcoming spring!
$10 at the door.

March 30th
1322 Jamrich Hall, NMU

6pm Miriah Redmond
Founder of MQT Growth, a local non-profit organization striving to feed the soul of the community through accessible and free community gardens

7pm Natasha Lantz
Director of Marquette Food Co-op Outreach Department. Natasha will discuss local organizations for sustainable, community food systems.

March 31st
2906 West Science, NMU

6pm Joel Lantz
Local Beekeeper with extensive knowledge of how to raise bees in the Upper Penninsula Climate and how you can keep bees yourself.

April 1st 4pm -8pm
NMU Dining Marketplace
Know Waste:No Waste

Did you know that 35 million tons of food is wasted in the US everyday? Join the Garden Club and Students 4 Sustainability at the MP for a food awareness day, in which we will provide educational material on composting and food waste.

April 1st
1318 Jamrich Hall, NMU

6pm Dr. Ronald Sundell
Coordinator of NMU Native Plants study area, demonstrating the importance of maintaining the flora of the UP to ensure future and immediate benefits

7pm Angela Johnson
Professor for upcoming summer permaculture course, Angela will speak about mutual flourishing between people and planet using applied permaculture ethics.

April 2nd
1322 Jamrich Hall, NMU

6pm Dr. Martin Reinhardt
Professor in the NAS department, Dr. Reinhardt will speak about the DDP (Decolonizing Diet Project), an exploratory study of the relationship between people and Indigenous foods of the Great Lakes Region.

7pm
Superior Acre Permaculture
Presentation by Garden Club representatives about Superior Acre Permaculture. Topics such as the location, the design, and the educational portions of the garden will be discussed.