

POWWOW

MARCH 17 & MARCH 18, 2012

Join us for the 20th annual "Learning to Walk Together" traditional powwow.

VANDAMMENT ARENA

NORTHERN MICHIGAN UNIVERSITY
MARQUETTE, MICHIGAN

Grand Entries Saturday at Noon and 6 p.m.

Sunday at Noon

Feast Saturday at 4 p.m. (weekend button required)

The feast will take place at the D.J. Jacobetti Center and features the annual hand drum contest. Maps available at the powwow.

(Photo above) Donald and Karlene Chosa from Nett Lake, Minnesota.

Head Veteran Dancer - Rodney Loonsfoot

Honor Guard - KBIC Veterans

Head Dancers - Donald and Karlene Chosa

Host Drum - Sturgeon Bay Singers

Co-Host Drum - Winnebago Sons

Co-Host Drum - Woodland Singers

Invited Drum - Bahweting Singers

Invited Drum - Four Thunders

Invited Drum - Stone Boy

Emcees - Erick Awonohopay and Jody Gaskin

Arena Director - Robert Blackdeer

Fire Keeper - Sam Doyle

Daily admission is $5.

Weekend button is $8

Free to NMU students.

Need more information?

Can you volunteer?

Call: 906-227-1397

E-mail: nasa@nmu.edu

www.nmu.edu/nativeamericans

Absolutely no drugs or alcohol.

"LIKE" us on Facebook.

Presented by the NMU Native American Student Association, this powwow is made possible by the support from the following NMU departments and programs: Center for Native American Studies, Center for Student Enrichment, Charter Schools, College of Arts and Sciences, College of Professional Studies, Ethnic and Cultural Diversity Committee, Multicultural Education and Resource Center/PAGE Program, Office of International Programs, Office of the Provost and Vice President for Academic Affairs, School of Education as well as the following community businesses and organizations: Bonanza, Casa Calabria, Island Resort and Casino, Kewadin Casinos, Keweenaw Bay Indian Community, Marquette Food Co-op, Moonstone Gallery, Noc Bay Trading Company, Screened Image, Thai Bistro, and the YMCA.

Special thanks to Audio Visual Department, Chris Kibit and the Culinary Arts Program and Chris Busch and the PEIF staff. Thanks to all of the generous volunteers!

Northern Michigan
University